Power of Attorney. Client appoints Advisor as Client's agent and attorney-in-fact with full power and authority for Client and on Client's behalf to buy, sell and otherwise deal in the Investments ("Investments") for the Account.

Responsibilities of Advisor. Advisor will manage the Account on a discretionary basis, which means Advisor will purchase and sell securities for the Account without first consulting with or obtaining specific authorization from Client. Advisor will invest, monitor, evaluate, rebalance, and trade the Account on an ongoing basis according to the risk tolerance and investment objectives stated in this Agreement. Client understands that some Account(s) may be invested more or less aggressively to achieve the Client's household goals for all investments. Accounts opened in the future may be opened and managed under this Agreement. Continental also provides non-discretionary services in which case the firm will secure client's permission prior to effecting securities transactions in non-discretionary accounts.

Responsibilities of Client. Client will provide Advisor with accurate and complete information about Client's risk tolerance and investment objectives and will promptly inform Advisor of any significant changes in that information. Client is responsible for the accuracy and completeness of all information provided to Advisor and for any losses or damages caused by the failure to provide such information to Advisor. Advisor shall not be responsible for any losses or damages that occur as a result of Client's failure to provide accurate and complete information to Advisor. Client shall not, during the term of this Agreement engage in any transactions in the Account except by notifying Advisor and having Advisor make any such transaction.

Client Understanding and Acceptance of Certain Risks. Client understands Advisor's services, the terms and conditions of this Agreement and has provided the appropriate risk tolerance and investment objectives information and has had an opportunity to ask questions about them. Client understands that investments made for the Account are subject to general market and economic risks, as well as the risks associated with investments in individual securities and agrees to accept those risks. Client understands that there are no guarantees that Client's investment goals or objectives will be met or that any investment strategy selected for the Account will be successful in achieving its long-term objectives or performance goals. Client understands that the Account is not insured and that the value of the Account and the investments in the Account will fluctuate over time and, at any point in time, may be more or less than the amount originally invested in the Account. Client understands and accepts that Advisor engages in an Investment Advisor business apart from managing the Account. This may create conflicts of interest with the Account over the Advisor's time managing the Account and managing the business. To the best of its knowledge, Advisor has reasonably disclosed all material conflicts of interest with the client. Advisor will attempt to resolve all such conflicts in a manner that is generally fair to all Clients.

Custody of Assets. Client will establish the Account with a custodian ("Custodian"). Client's relationship with Custodian will be governed by a separate agreement between Client and Custodian. Client will be responsible for paying all commissions, trading costs, and expenses payable, if any, to Custodian. Client will receive, at minimum, quarterly statements showing all transactions occurring in the Account during the period covered by the statement. Client authorizes Custodian to provide Advisor access or authority to fulfill all obligations under the terms of this agreement, including, but not limited to electronic access to Account and downloads on account transactions and positions, debiting fees and trading Accounts. Client is responsible for reviewing statements provided by the Custodian and confirming and reporting any discrepancies to Advisor. Client also agrees that all Accounts and investment positions accessible by the Advisor at the Custodian used by the Client fall under the terms of this Agreement unless Client specifically excludes the Account or investment under the Exclusions/Restrictions section of this Agreement. Client understands that all Account(s) opened through Advisor under the Custodian noted in this agreement will be managed under the terms of this agreement.

Calculation and Deduction of Fees. The Total Advisory Fee rate is noted under the Annual Advisory Fees section of this agreement. The fee for the effective period is determined by the total billable assets multiplied by the annual fee rate divided by the number of days in the current year and multiplied by the number of days in the effective period. In the event an account is not open the entire billing period, the advisory fee will be pro-rated for the time it was opened. Client authorizes Advisor to calculate and deduct its fees from the Account under the terms of this agreement. Any commissions, trading costs, redemption fees, and other expenses payable in connection with the execution of transactions for the account and any out-of-pocket expenses incurred shall be borne by the Account and, to the extent the Account's funds are inadequate, by the Client. It is possible that the value of the account will include mutual funds, exchange-traded funds, or other investments that have additional fees and expenses as noted in the prospectus. Client acknowledges understanding that these expenses are paid by the funds but ultimately paid by the Client. Client also understands that it may be possible to find comparable services at a lower fee from other providers. Client understands that it is possible to obtain similar investment management services from other advisors at a lower cost.

Valuation. Advisor relies on the Custodian for pricing on all positions held by Client. Client understands that investments without an active trading market, such as direct participation programs, are highly illiquid, and the amounts shown on the statements will not accurately reflect the current liquidation value. With such investments, any stated value on the Custodian statement should not be used for determining the present value of the asset and Client should refer to the issuer statement for values.

Other Investment Clients. Advisor will provide investment management services for other clients. Client understands that Advisor, its personnel, and affiliates ("Affiliates") may give advice or take action in performing their duties to other clients or for their own accounts that differ from advice given to or action taken for Client. Advisor is not obligated to buy, sell, or recommend for Client any security or other investment that Advisor or its Affiliates may buy, sell, or recommend for any other client or for their own accounts. This Agreement does not limit or restrict, in any way, Advisor or any of its Affiliates from buying, selling, or trading in any securities or other investments for their own accounts.

Legal Proceedings. Client agrees that Advisor will not advise or act for Client in any legal proceedings, including bankruptcies or class actions, involving securities held or previously held by the account or the issuers of these securities.

Proxy Voting. The Client acknowledges that Advisor will not vote proxies on behalf of Client.

Death or Disability. The death, disability, or incompetence of Clients will not terminate or change the terms of this Agreement. However, Client's executor, guardian, attorney-in-fact, or other authorized representative may terminate this Agreement by giving written notice to Advisor as described in the Term Section of this Agreement.

Limitation of Liability. Advisor and Custodian are not affiliated with each other and are separately responsible for providing services to Client. Such parties shall have no responsibility for supervising or controlling the others and shall have no liability for the acts or omissions of the others. Neither Advisor nor their officers, directors, employees, or agents shall be liable for damages caused by an act or omission, error in judgment or decline in the value of the Account, unless caused directly by the negligence, breach of fiduciary duty or willful misconduct of such party. Nothing in this Agreement constitutes a waiver of rights under federal or state securities laws that cannot be waived under the provisions of those laws.

Term. This Agreement may be terminated for any reason by any party effective upon receipt of written notice of termination by the other parties to this Agreement. In the event Client or the Advisor terminates this agreement during a quarter, the fee is pro-rated for the portion of the quarter where services were provided. The termination date used is the date the Advisor or Client notifies the other party in writing (to address of record) of the termination. In the event the account is not available for electronically debiting the fee, Client agrees to pay the invoice for the partial quarter within 30 days of receipt.

Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed in accordance with the laws of the state of Washington, California, or the client's home state. For clients residing in Washington, the advisory contract must not waive or limit compliance with, or require indemnification for any violations of, any provision of the Securities Act of Washington, chapter 21.20 RCW, or the rules adopted thereunder.

For Texas clients, this agreement will be governed in accordance with the laws of the State of Texas or their home State.

Assignment. All parties agree that this contract may be assigned only through prior written consent of Client.

Representations. Each party executing this Agreement represents that it is authorized to enter into this Agreement, the Agreement will be legally binding and enforceable against such party when executed and that performance of the actions called for under the Agreement by such party will not violate any law, regulation, or contractual obligation to which such party is subject. Client represents that the investment of the Account(s) in the manner called for under this Agreement will not violate any law, regulation, document of corporate governance, retirement plan instrument, partnership or trust agreement or any other contractual obligation. Client agrees to deliver to Advisor any documentation that Advisor may reasonably request to document the above representations.

ERISA Accounts. If the Accounts are under ERISA, Advisor will act under ERISA Section 3(21)(A)(ii) with respect to its rendering of investment advice as that term is defined in ERISA. Advisor will not act as, nor has Advisor agreed to assume the duties of, a trustee of the Plan or as Plan Administrator (as such term is defined under ERISA). Advisor has no discretion to interpret the Plan documents, to determine eligibility or participation under the Plan, or to take any other action with respect to the management, administration, or any other aspect of the Plan. Further, neither Advisor nor its affiliates have the authority or responsibility to act as a custodian for the Plan and do not take custody of Plan assets. Advisor shall not, and cannot, provide legal or tax advice to Client or the Plan. Client agrees to seek the advice of its legal advisor, as to matters that might arise relating to the operations and administration of the Plan.

Notices. Client agrees that any notices should be sent electronically to the email on this Agreement and that electronic mail is the appropriate way to send Client notices. However, Client may request hard copy mailing for all notices by checking the appropriate box in the Email Consent portion of this Agreement. Client affirms that any notices sent either electronically or through the normal mail will be shared between all Clients. Notices from the Client should be delivered to Continental Investors Services, Inc., 1330 Broadway Street, Longview, Washington 98632.

Client Acknowledgement. Client acknowledges receipt of Part 2 of Form ADV; a disclosure statement containing at least the information required by Part 2A Appendix 1 of Form ADV. If the appropriate disclosure statement was not delivered to the client at least 48 hours prior to the client entering into any written advisory contract with this investment adviser, then the client has the right to terminate the contract without penalty within five business days after entering into the contract. For the purposes of this provision, a contract is considered entered into when all parties to the contract have signed the contract, or, in the case of a contract, otherwise signified their acceptance, any other provision of his contract notwithstanding. Client also acknowledges receiving and reviewing the Advisor's Privacy Policy included on this Agreement and Client agrees to allow Advisor to make such limited disclosures of Client information as are permitted under its Privacy Policy.
